Eurener is awarded the Ecovadis platinum medal for its sustainability and good labour practices

- This recognition places the Spanish photovoltaic module manufacturer in the select 1% of the world's most sustainable companies.

- Ecovadis assesses environmental sustainability, policies, and actions in areas such as business ethics, employment, and human rights, as well as responsible management of the supply chain in an external audit.

EURENER, a Spanish photovoltaic module manufacturer specializing in the European residential market, has been awarded the prestigious Platinum Medal by EcoVadis for its sustainability, good labour practices, and business ethics. This award places EURENER in the select group of the top 1% of the most sustainable companies in the world, according to the audit carried out by the external sustainability rating agency EcoVadis.

EcoVadis recognizes EURENER's commitment to sustainability, business ethics, and social responsibility. Since 1997, the company has been a pioneer in the manufacture and distribution of solar modules with premium aesthetics, long warranties, and low environmental impact.

The EcoVadis Platinum Medal not only validates EURENER's efforts in the area of environmental sustainability, but also recognizes its policies and actions in key areas such as business ethics, employment, and human rights, as well as responsible supply chain management.

EURENER's Commercial Director, Pasquale Zazo, expressed his satisfaction with this achievement: "Our Group's commitment, recognized by all our customers and partners, is part of our DNA as a renewable energy company focused on sustainability and good governance. Receiving this Platinum medal from EcoVadis is excellent news that confirms the great work and efforts we have made to become a little more sustainable and transparent every year, and is an incentive to continue to intensify our efforts".

The EcoVadis recognition, based on international sustainability standards, strengthens EURENER's position as a reference in the solar energy sector and reinforces its commitment to a more sustainable and equitable future for all. For the past two years, EURENER PV modules have been recognised as the top PV brand by installers in countries such as France, the UK, Sweden and Belgium, according to EUPD Research.

Eurener. More than energy

Since 1997 our main purpose has been to supply quality and long-lasting photovoltaic modules that allow us and future generations, to continue generating clean energy to take care of our planet.
